

Heller Outlines Values and Goals

President John Fitzgerald Kennedy said at his swearing in “We observe today not a victory of party but a celebration of freedom.” This was a wise beginning: Kennedy recognized that beyond party affiliations, we share common ideals and respect for our democratic traditions, values, and institutions.

We value free speech, the expression of ideas (including those that differ from our own); we value diversity; and we respect one another. We are privileged to live in a charming and bucolic town, surrounded by natural beauty. Life is good.

I am honored and humbled to be your First Selectman. I welcome the responsibility because of my firm belief in the principles of self-government — which we can put to work to build the future of our Town together. I am committed to town government that is open, inclusive, and transparent — one that promotes discussion and healthy debate but values civility and mutual respect.

So what are our goals for the Town over the next two years?

Let’s agree on a long-term plan for the former Country Club of Woodbridge property.

Let’s agree on a plan for the old firehouse that enhances the value of this historic asset.

Given the current realities in Hartford and Washington, let’s agree on new and creative approaches to managing resources such as vendor consolidation, eliminating redundancy, sharing services with neighboring towns and school districts, expanding green energy to lower costs, and increasing our focus on expanding the commercial tax base.

We will partner with our business community, listening and acting to address their needs, and promote their success.

As we work together, I will support investment and planning to preserve and enhance our quality of life consistent with our shared values. We take pride in our first responders, our schools, our library, our green open spaces, and our role as a leader in preserving the environment, while maintaining our recognized highest standards for planning and fiscal responsibility. We take pride in our work to modernize the district animal shelter ensuring the excellent adoption rate that the shelter enjoys.

Our democratic process is based on competition of ideas, and this is healthy. Town government at its best is an inclusive process aimed at addressing the concerns and aspirations of all constituents.

As a resident of our Town you have the opportunity to shape its future. I am committed to listening to each of you and ensuring that every voice is heard as we work together.

—Beth Heller, First Selectman

Town Passes Firearm Ordinance & Leash Law

Guns and other weapons will no longer be allowed on Town-owned property per a new ordinance passed unanimously by the Board of Selectmen (BOS) under former First Selectman Ellen Scalettar. Several residents turned out to support the Selectmen’s action.

The new ordinance prohibits carrying guns onto Town-owned property, including municipal buildings, parks, trails, etc. Exemptions exist for law enforcement personnel and for the lawful transport of weapons on Town roads.

Another change to the firearms ordinance brought it into compliance with State law. The ordinance had prohibited discharging a weapon within 500 yards of a dwelling but State law requires that the maximum distance be 500 feet.

Woodbridge Passes Pet Leash Law

The Town now has a “leash law” that requires dogs to be on a leash. Already dog owners (or dog walkers) were required to pick up and remove dog feces from any public area or private area that is not the dog owners’ yard.

Now dog owners and dog walkers have the additional responsibility of keeping their dog under control with a leash or similar restraint. The blind and accompanying guide dogs are exempted from both requirements.

Town Removes Wood Removal Permits

The Town will no longer issue wood removal permits to residents, the BOS decided at a recent meeting.

The Department of Public Works (DPW) recommended rescinding the permits. In the last several years only a handful of people have applied for a permit.

For residents interested in free wood, the United Illuminating will be conducting tree trimming for the foreseeable future. Residents may pick up wood left on the side of the road before UI returns to collect it.

New Deli and Caterer

First Selectman Ellen Scalettar visited Deli Delish and Catering, a new family-owned deli and catering business in Woodbridge's Selden Plaza.

Owners Julie and Rich Gagliardi owned a neighboring town deli for 16 years. When they first started that business it was the two of them plus one staff member and eventually it grew to 11 employees. "It just got too big and it became more work. We wanted to go back to where we began," said Julie.

They had been looking for a small space to run their deli and Selden Plaza was the right fit. We really like this area," Rich told Scalettar of their move to Woodbridge. "It's very small business oriented. All the small businesses here support each other."

Rich, the chef, started out as a dishwasher as a young teen and worked his way up in the kitchens while learning from some of the best chefs in Connecticut.

Deli Delish has a large menu with hot, cold and specialty sandwiches, salads and breakfast items. There are daily specials and made-from-scratch winter soups and cold summer soup options such as avocado bisque and pineapple mango gazpacho. The roasted chicken vegetable soup is almost always available as people seek it out when they're sick, Rich says.

Their signature dish is eggplant parmesan. "Some people pawn it off as their own," Rich said. "We don't mind - we have even put it in a customer's own dish so they could bring it to a party."

Another point of pride is customer service. "We try to learn people's names and what they like to eat. We try to offer specials that reflect what our customers desire," said Julie.

"Woodbridge is a small town and people know each other, so that's important here," Scalettar told them.

Located at 26A Selden St., the deli makes everything fresh and on premise. Seating is offered as well as take-out and catering.

CCW Property Update

Birds and wildlife are returning to the Country Club of Woodbridge property now that golf has ceased and pesticides are no longer used.

Many residents have reported being amazed by the beauty of the vistas and the variety of returning birds.

The property is being used for passive recreation — areas adjacent to the cart paths are being mowed and some bridges have been removed for safety reasons. Walking (dogs must be leashed) and biking is permitted; closed-toe shoes are recommended.

The plan is to mow the entire property twice a year — late fall and early spring — per the ad hoc Best Organic/Outdoor Maintenance and Management Practices Committee's recommendations. This will prevent disturbances of butterfly eggs, retain seed heads for bird food and avoid disturbing early nesters, such as bluebirds, while controlling unwanted invasive plants.

Police Offer Hurricane Tips

The Woodbridge Police Department offers tips to residents for the hurricane season.

The Atlantic season runs June to November, with peak season in August through October.

High winds and torrential rains may cause catastrophic damage to shorelines and several hundred miles inland with flooding that persists for days.

Hurricane Watch means storm conditions are expected, within 36 hours. A Hurricane Warning indicates storm conditions within 24 hours.

In case of a hurricane:

- *Secure outdoor property
- *Clear gutters and downspouts
- *Charge phones and computer
- *Have ample food, batteries and water for drinking and toilet flushing
- *Stay indoors away from glass doors and windows
- *Listen for storm updates
- *Drive only if necessary
- *Keep away from loose or dangling power lines
- *Report any emergency to authorities
