

Autumn in the Air

The Selectmen received updates on several ongoing issues and projects at our September 12 Board of Selectmen meeting, including the Fiscal Health Analysis being conducted by CERC. After discussion of initial findings, we expect a Final Report to be delivered at our October meeting to help us hold down costs and save taxpayer dollars as we begin consideration of next year's budget.

The Selectmen also received an update on the Town Center Beautification Plan, and heard the details of a plan for a garden on the Town Green, which will be made possible by a gift from the family of Arden Clark Gordon. The garden will highlight the entryway to the beautiful space that is our Town Green and kick-off our larger project of beautifying the Town Center. I encourage community members and organizations who might also like to donate to help complete some of the other projects outlined in the Beautification Plan to learn more at our website: WoodbridgeCT.org/496/Current-Issues-Projects

The Town has also ushered in live video streaming of meetings—please visit the WGATV YouTube Channel to watch live coverage of upcoming meetings, or see video re-plays of recorded meetings on-demand, by visiting: youtube.com/user/wgatv79

Also, at our September 12 meeting, we received an update from Insite Development with some additional details regarding a proposal for the former-Country Club of Woodbridge property. You can view this portion of the meeting to learn more by visiting the YouTube link above. The Selectmen have made no decisions yet. Any proposal for this property will of course ultimately be considered by voters in a referendum, and I will continue to keep the public informed of all developments along the way.

—First Selectman Beth Heller

Gardener Tovah Martin to Visit Library

Join us on Wednesday, October 10 at 7 pm for A Boot Camp for Your Senses with Tovah Martin, a presentation to coincide with the publication of her latest book, The Garden in Every Sense and Season. This program is rescheduled from our original date of May 15, 2018. Please register/re-register on our website or by calling the library. Books will be available for sale and signing.

Explore the garden on all levels by attuning your nose to the scents and training your ears to listen. Learn to garden with eyes wide open, ears to the ground, and hands outstretched. You will be led through an odyssey of exploration to awaken the senses and arouse your abilities of perception on all levels. This lecture is beautiful and fun as well as highly practical. Advice and ideas will be shared, deeply enhancing the gardening experience, while also incorporating a "Smellathon" to help get nostrils in gear.

Author of the classics The Unexpected Houseplant, The New Terrarium, and Tasha Tudor's Garden, Tovah has written more than a dozen gardening books. She served as garden editor for Victoria magazine throughout its lifetime and was named the new Victoria's Writer in Residence for 2012. In addition, her articles appear in a broad range of magazines and periodicals, including Country Gardens, Garden Design, Coastal Home, Martha Stewart Living, Traditional Home, Design New England, Yankee, The Litchfield County Times, and The Daily Telegraph. For two years she served as segment producer and frequent guest on the PBS television series Cultivating Life, and she is a repeat guest on the CBS Sunday Early Show. Tovah teaches houseplant cultivation to Master Gardeners and lectures extensively throughout the country.

An accredited Organic Land Care Professional through NOFA, Tovah gardens fanatically and organically both indoors and throughout her seven-acre Connecticut garden. In addition to bestowing their Sarah Chapman Francis Medal for outstanding literary achievement on Tovah in 2008, The Garden Club of America and the Litchfield Garden Club awarded her honorary memberships. People, Places, Plants magazine called her "one of the top 10 most influential educators in gardening" and the Massachusetts Horticultural Society honored her with its Gold Medal "for extraordinary service to horticulture, especially greenhouses and indoor plants."

Calling All Composters!

To have a healthy lawn and garden, you need healthy soil. Compost is what you need to nourish your soil. Starting a home composting area is easy, and you already have the ingredients in your kitchen! Composting can reduce your carbon footprint by reducing food waste that goes into incinerators, supporting a cleaner environment.

As part of ongoing sustainability efforts by Beecher Road School, the Town's Ad Hoc Sustainability Committee and the Woodbridge Town Library, the public is invited to learn to compost at home at a free workshop on Sat., Oct. 6 at 3 pm. Domingo Medina of New Haven's Peels & Wheels Composting will speak about how to compost at home. This program is open to all—bring your families and your questions!

We will start in the Library's meeting room and then head outside for a hands-on demonstration. Light refreshments will be provided—and composted at the event! Please register online or at the Library.

Her intellectual contributions were denied their due even when she offered them in the service of her new home during World War II. Only after years of career and personal decline in her troubled life would Lamarr learn that her staggering aptitude created brilliant engineering concepts that revolutionized telecommunications, which forced the world to realize the hidden abilities of a woman it had so unfairly underestimated.
