

May Happenings

As the weather warms up, our lawns and gardens spring back to life. But among your cultivated plants and flowers, you may have also noticed some "invasive" plants which have been moving into our wooded areas, meadows, and backyards here in Woodbridge, just as they have across the New England states.

Invasive species are defined as plants that are non-native (or alien) to the local ecosystem, and whose introduction causes or is likely to cause harm. Getting to the root of the problem is often difficult as it is a very time-intensive task to remove these plants from your property and prevent their regrowth.

Invasive Plants Workshop

The Commission on the Use of Publicly Owned Property (CUPOP) is kicking-off a series of informational workshops on topics related to protecting the environment.

Invasive Plants will be the topic on Tuesday, May 7th (from 6 pm to 8 pm) at the Town Library. Come learn how you can support, sustain, and restore plant species diversity in Woodbridge, and help maintain the health and resilience of the Town's environment.

Rescheduled Rid Litter Day

Due to rain, we had to cancel Rid Litter Day on April 28th but I am pleased to announce that we have rescheduled for Saturday, June 1st — when several local organizations are coordinating their events in the Town Center campus. On this same day the Friends of the Library is holding its annual book sale in the Library, the Garden Club is holding its plant sale in the Grove, and the Dog Park Cooperative is organizing a dog walk that will start and end near the Old Firehouse.

Rid Litter Day will be celebrated (from 11 am to 1 pm) in this same area and we will encourage residents to pick up trash and beautify the roadsides all around town. This type of coordinated effort is part of my goal to make our Town Center a more friendly and welcoming area with events to bring residents together.

Memorial Day Ceremony

I hope to see you at one of these events, or at our annual Memorial Day ceremony on Monday, May 27th at 11 am at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Monument in front of the Center Building (4 Meetinghouse Lane). In case of rain the ceremony will be held inside at the Center Building gym.

Officer Lalli Welcomed

Newly hired officer, John Lalli, was officially sworn in as a member of the Woodbridge Police Department during the March 12 meeting of the Woodbridge Board of Police Commissioners.

Officer Lalli joins the Department after completing a distinguished career with the New Haven Police Department.

In welcoming and congratulating him on this new chapter of his career, Chief Frank Cappiello stated that Officer Lalli brings with him strong interpersonal communication skills, coupled with years of law enforcement knowledge and expertise.

New Food Truck Opens

Woodbridge has a new food truck, Street N' Savory.

Owner Jake Heffernan had a revelation one day while making risotto for himself: This is what I want to do.

He'd worked as a bartender and in restaurants so he was familiar with the food business. He enrolled in culinary school and has been cooking professionally ever since including at high end restaurants in New Haven and Fairfield counties. "I jumped around a lot to absorb as much as I could," he says.

When Heffernan began exploring opening a restaurant he quickly realized that opening a food truck would take less startup capital and require less staff.

Right now he does all the cooking and that's the way he likes it. The menu is in-season gourmet-inspired street food. It's a fusion of Caribbean and Asian flavors mixed in with Mediterranean food. For example, a Cuban sandwich gets an Italian riff with the addition of capicola ham and pickled fennel. A Mexican street taco is topped with jerk chicken and a Caribbean slaw.

Heffernan and his partner, Michelle Riley, offer full-service party planning. She's an experienced event planner and they can provide everything including the invitations, décor themes and, of course, the catering.

Street N' Savory had its debut in March at the New England Brewing Company. He plans to be at the Woodbridge Summer Concerts on Tuesdays in July. For a calendar of where the food truck will be, visit the Street N' Savory Facebook or Instagram pages. For more information, visit StreetNSavory.com.

Library hours are Mon. through Thu., 10 am - 8 pm and Fri. & Sat., 10 am - 5 pm.

The Library will be closed on Monday, May 27 for Memorial Day.

Hello Instagram, Shoutbomb & New Catalog; Technology Changes to Keep Patrons Informed

Libraries and technology—rarely does one hear the first word without the second in the current library climate. At the Woodbridge Library, staff are always striving both to stay on top of the latest trends and changes to technology, and also to convey this information to patrons. In this spirit, the Library would like to share a few updates on some of the technological platforms that have been offered to patrons.

First, the Library is thrilled to announce the return to Instagram! After a longer-than-expected hiatus, the Library's account is back up and running on this social media platform for sharing pictures. Follow Library@woodbridgetownlibrary to see what's being posted. The account will be used for pictures of programs, new releases of books and DVDs, everyday snapshots of library life (#LibraryLife), and more! An Instagram account is not needed, simply visit: instagram.com/woodbridgetownlibrary/.

Second, if keeping track of due dates and checked out items can sometimes be a challenge, consider signing up for text messages via Shoutbomb. This service sends texts directly to patrons' phones about their library accounts, including holds that are available, items due soon, and overdue items. Simply text the word SIGNUP to (860) 345-1307. Then reply to the messages from Shoutbomb with a library card number. Multiple cards can be applied to one phone number—a great feature for households with more than one card. The service works on any phone with text capability; a smart phone is not necessary. There is no charge for Shoutbomb, but regular text messaging rates still apply.

Finally, users of the LibAnywhere app may have noticed that Woodbridge Town Library/LION consortium catalog searches are no longer working. When LION switched catalog software late last year, it no longer fed data to the LibAnywhere app. At this time, there is no app for the new catalog software. Patrons are encouraged to bookmark the Library's catalog page in the web browser on their device and use that for searching: wd.catalog.lionlibraries.org/.

The Library hopes patrons enjoy these products—both for information and entertainment. If they haven't been tried yet, take a look! Please contact the Reference Desk with any questions by calling (203) 389-3434, emailing wbrstaff@lioninc.org, or stop by the Library!

planned now—there will be movies (indoor and outdoor), crafts, food demonstrations, book-related activities and more! The entire staff looks forward to welcoming residents to the Library and signing them up for summer reading challenges—for adults and children. More information will be announced as summer draws near. Stay tuned!

Planning Vacations and Staycations?

Be an informed traveler! The Library recently acquired a large number of new, updated travel guides, with locations spanning from very local to international. All travel guides circulate for three weeks and can be renewed if there is no other patron waiting, providing plenty of time for research. If the Library does not own a particular title or destination, it may be available to be sent from another library. The travel section is on the first floor, past the Reference Desk.

If a staycation is in the works, take advantage of the Library's collection of museum and park passes, which provide admission discounts (or even free admission). Many can be reserved and printed online—go right from home without needing to stop at the library first. The full list of museums is on our website: woodbridge.lioninc.org/museum-passes/.

Contact the Reference Desk with any questions: (203) 389-3434, wbrstaff@lioninc.org, or stop by the desk.
