Update on Winter Projects

I'd like to update you on a few projects I'm focusing on this winter.

Recent comments have speculated about the unanimous vote of the Board of Selectmen to postpone the Special Town Meeting and Referendum. The meeting and referendum were postponed because the Board agreed that, in the interest of transparency, we should have a fully negotiated sales agreement in place, prior to the referendum vote. I hope that at our December Board of Selectmen meeting we will review the final agreement and decide on the dates for the Special Town Meeting and Referendum. Every household will receive a mailing with the date for a Special Town Meeting and the explanatory text for the Referendum.

At our November meeting, the Board voted unanimously to reserve money to engage a consultant to help decide how best to use the undeveloped land retained by the Town at the former Country Club property. I am committed to do this, whether or not the approximately 60 acres are sold for development of senior housing. I have proposed that a portion of the unsold land be used for a park.

I'm proud to announce the publication of the Town's first-ever Holiday Guide, which highlights holiday events in November and December. This poster is the kick-off to seasonal themed posters that will showcase the many businesses, organizations and events we enjoy in Woodbridge. The next poster will focus on health and wellness events and promotions during January and February. If you'd like to be added to that poster, please contact Betsy Yagla at byagla@woodbridgect.org or 203-389-3403.

The Town plans to finish the next step of renovations at the Old Firehouse by the end of the year. The work is funded through a $500,000 Small Town Economic Assistance Program (STEAP) grant. This work follows a 2006 fire. I believe it is finally time to review and decide uses for this building. We must make this decision before we can have an architect develop drawings, get a cost estimate, and find funding. I invite you all to think about how the Town should use the building. If you have ideas please reach out to my office at 203-389-3401 by Wednesday December 4 so I am able to share your ideas with the Board of Selectmen prior to our December 11 meeting. Hopefully the Board of Selectmen will soon make a definitive decision on the uses, so this project can move to completion.

As always, my door is open to all Woodbridge residents. Please feel free to call me at 203-389-3401, or email me at bheller@woodbridgect.org.

I wish everyone a safe and wonderful holiday season and a very happy New Year! — First Selectman Beth Heller

New Faces, Familiar Vibe on Bradley Road

There's a new face but a familiar vibe and goal in the historic building at 88 Bradley Road. The building, formerly known as the Children's Divorce Center, which has been in operation for 40 years, was recently acquired by Carolyn Wilkes Kaas, a Quinnipiac University law professor.

Kaas was approached by Marcia Lebowitz, the founding director of the Children's Divorce Center 20 years ago. "She said, 'I wish lawyers understood what children and families go through.' Marcia has been teaching at the law school ever since. There's been a move to change family law education and she was way ahead of the curve," says Kaas.

Kaas wants the building to be a place for lawyers and mental health professionals committed to practicing family law in a child-focused way. The common space is homey. There's a fireplace and comfortable chairs organized around a coffee table. Kids' toys, books and art are on the walls.

Attorney Brendan Holt is currently the building's only tenant. He's made it a personal mission to help educate people that there's a different way to go through a divorce. There are ways to do the same work outside the system with a therapist, certified financial professionals and collaborative attorneys or a mediator. In this alternative method the day a divorcing couple goes to court to make their agreement official could be their only court date.

Holt is holding a workshop Tuesday, January 7 at 7 pm at the Woodbridge Town Library to explain the different ways couples can go through a divorce, including mediation and collaborative law.

Notice from the Tax Office

Woodbridge taxpayers are reminded that real estate, supplemental motor vehicle and personal property taxes are due January 1, 2020 and will become delinquent on February 4, 2020.

For delinquent payments, interest will be charged on the unpaid installment balance at the rate of 1.5 % per month from the due date. The minimum interest charge is $2.

The Tax Office is open 8:30 am to 4:30 pm, Monday through Friday (closed January 1 and 20). For your convenience, the office will be open Saturday, February 1, 9 am - noon and Monday, February 3, 8:30 am - 7 pm. If making payment in person, bring your entire bill so it may be stamped as your receipt. For mail payments, enclose your check, the entire bill and a self-addressed stamped envelope for a return receipt. Credit card payments may now be made online (only) through the Town website at WoodbridgeCT.org. There is a fee charged for this service. Please read the online information carefully.

Failure to receive a bill does not exempt you from payment of tax or penalty, per Conn. Gen. Stat. 12-130, 12-146.

Please call Woodbridge Tax Collector Pat Crisco with any questions at 203-389-3425.
